Greetings,

Oil of the Month™ Club - Happy new year for everyone who joined way back in October when oil was only $80 per barrel. Those were the days my friends.

Scam of the Week™ - The entire 2007 season is now available for download at WarWithoutEndAmen.com

NCAA Football - To everyone still wearing baby puke orange, OU STILL SUX!!! Watch the final BCS poll because Stoops has a $75,000 bonus for a Top 10 finish.

At Matt's tonight more details are revealed about Point #9 of The Reverend Tony™'s Ten Point Plan to Save the World and Save The Cheerleaders™, Oh God, Please Save The Cheerleaders™. Tax religious organizations just like everyone else.

You tell The Reverend Tony™ that churchgoers don't use streets to get to church, that the fire department won't respond to a fire at the church, that the police won't investigate a burglary of the church, and the list goes on and on.

Greetings,

Los Tigres won the National Championship of American Collegiate Football (NCOACF, and you need a tissue when you say that) There was much rejoicing.

Scam of the Week™ Guiseppe Franco will not be at Matt's this week and neither will The Reverend Tony™ as the World Tour continues in Florida where The Reverend Tony™ is scouting for locations for The Reverend Tony™'s Nursing Home and Gentleman's Club™, a retirement community for men of discerning taste. Have a lap dance while mushing down on a bowl of tapioca, only in America, only in Florida.

Predictions for 2008

1. Tony Romo will or will not marry Jessica Simpson
2. Four more years of Bush/Cheney, don't ask how they will do it just know that they will.
3. Baylor will win the national championship of Baptist football which is just like American football except that you can't dance or wear make-up.
4. Hilarity Clinton will put her pants on both legs at a time.
5. The dollar will trade at 2-1 to the euro.
6. Sweet Texas Crude will be only €72 per barrel and there will be much rejoicing.
7. And Matt's Famous El Rancho will still be.

Peace, love and margaritas for all and to all a good night, I remain The Reverend

Greetings,

What a silly week it's been and the full moon is not until next Tuesday. Usually Tom Cruise and his big medal would take the cake (<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=0G0lppCmz1s>)

But President Numnutz doing the sword dance is priceless (<http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=OUoycVXw9ew>) And notice that Numnutz is dancing with the blade toward his own neck.

In his State of the Union, President Numnutz will announce his plan to end the War Without End, and if his scheme does work The Reverend Tony™ will say Amen. A direct quote from his address

"And with these tax cuts, especially the alternative minimum tax, the terrorists will see and understand that this War of Terror is over. Peace will therefore be achieved within 6-12 months maybe, five years tops, 20 years certain unless the alternative minimum tax is brought back."

Scam of the Week™ goes to the Fixodent™ commercial where the two 60 somethings are making out in the back of a yellow cab and "one of them is wearing dentures". The Reverend Tony™ denies any connection with that ad.

Recall that Sun Hing once said "You can't walk in his shoes if they're the wrong size."

Obama-McCain or McCain-Obama? Depends on your persuasion like Texas-OU or OU-Texas. Either way the choice of Obama's running mate will be interesting, very interesting.

Based on The Reverend Tony™'s 6th Law of polyticks "Your friend is your worst enemy's worst enemy", Obama should choose Hillarity. She would also protect him from "accidental" death such as on a quail hunt with Biggus Cheney, because none of his enemies would prefer her as El Presidente with the Duke of Lewinsky™ as First Whatever™.

Greetings,

The Super Bowl was SUPER, if you took the under and the cover. The Reverend Tony™ had the good fortune to see Eli beat LSU in Tiger Stadium as a sophomore, then should have beat them as a junior again in Death Valley.

And in one of the best, big-time games The Reverend Tony™ has ever seen. could have won as a senior in Oxford the very same year that Los Tigres edged my Sooners for The National Championship. But enough about football.

McCain/Huckabee just does not fit on a bumper sticker and totally violates The Reverend Tony™'s 6th Law of polyticks.

If elected VP, Huckabee would do McCain and not field dress him in a New York minute and vice versa. N'est ce pas? You need more? Everyone from Arkansas can shoot squirrel.

So against all better judgment and reason, The Reverend Tony™ lends his doom to Obambi/Bono.

Now some may say, "Hey Reverend Tony™, is not Bono barred because he was born in Ireland, Constitution, Article II, paragraph 5, just like Arnold?"

The Reverend Tony™ replies "Is not Ireland just East Boston!!!"

But seriously folks, the correct answer is that both Bona and Ahhnold could serve as VP, which has no natural born requirement, but neither could succeed to the presidency because each is foreign born.

McCain/Schwarzenegger will fit perfectly on bumper stickers and campaign buttons and just sounds so right.

Pass the password, je reste.

I want to live my next life backwards:

You start out dead and get that out of the way.

Then you wake up in a nursing home feeling better every day

Then you get kicked out for being too healthy.

Enjoy your retirement and collect your pension.

Then when you start work, you get a gold watch on your first day .

You work 40 years until you're too young to work.

You get ready for High School: drink alcohol, party, and you're generally promiscuous.

Then you go to primary school, you become a kid, you play, and you have no responsibilities.

Then you become a baby, and then...

You spend your last 9 months floating peacefully in luxury, in spa-like conditions - central heating, room service on tap, and then... You finish off as an orgasm.

Whatever you might think about El BJ and/or his music, he is the show business par excellence. Up to his high heels in rain, velvet Armani soaked but make up intact, Mr. Joel even waited to play Piano Man for the encore.

From the shuttle bus to/from JazzFest, and I took a yellow dog school bus back, you can still see plenty of FEMA trailers and way too many boarded up buildings and its coming up on 3 years. Funny how The Fence™ must be finished by the end of this year.

Bob, our waiter at Galatoire's, still has not been paid his claim on his homeowners insurance policy but he at least he has an apartment and is not still living in a trailer. Greetings,

It's over, it's all over. The Spurs have been retired for the season. When Joey Crawford was announced as an official for Game 4, it was a stake through the Spurs heart. How he gets to ref any game much less an NBA semi-final is amazing.

To prove the point, I started noting his bad calls from the start of the game but the task soon became overwhelming. And he finished with two of the worst ever. The no-call on Fisher coming down on Barry's head was bad except that he had just missed Kobe changing pivot feet on the play when the other idiot ref missed the ball hitting the rim which would have iced it for LA.

Greetings,

The World Tour continues anywhere but Austin this weekend. The Texas Democratic Convention and The Republic of Texas biker rally both invade. There will be much exhaust/hot air. So keep the womens and children inside lest they be molested by a gay or lesbian or bi or biker.

The Dems are in a tizzy over Obambi's nomination. Many speeches will be given, resolutions passed, committees and subcommittees formed. Then the heavens will open and God will appear before the assembled multitude, well maybe not God but certainly subcommittees.

For the Bikers it's the one chance each year to kick back and share a box of Franzia with family and friends or NOT. The laws of physics insist that motorbiking must include and involve bugs in the face area which is not a good look on The Reverend Tony™.

Fortunately for those who do motorbike, PlaciBox©™ can remove those nasty bug thingys in a Long Island jiff. Just mix PlaciBox©™ into a light paste and smear over the bugs. Let fester for 10 minutes and when removed with the Jaws-of-Life™, those bugs will be gone and your face will be as smooth as a baby's bottom.

Consequently no Matt's tonight, as the place will be over run with gay, lesbian, bi and bug bikers. Peace, love and PlaciBox©™, I remain The Reverend Tony™

Football Report

Euro 2008 begins this weekend in Switzerland and Austria. Vienna was 79/58 and Geneva was 68/50 yesterday which is nice.

Cristiano Ronaldo, the most beautiful player in the most beautiful game, plays for Portugal and Manchester United.

Cristiano plays tomorrow, Saturday June 7 at 1:30pm cst against Turkey, Wednesday, June 11 at 10:00 am cst against Czech Republic and finally at 10:45am Saturday June 15 versus the host Switzerland. Rumor has it that Real Madrid has offered Man U ?100 Million for the beautiful one's services. That's $200,000,000 to his team and probably another $40,000,000 per year to Cristiano who was named after Ronald Reagan. Is this a great game or what.

Italy, France and the Netherlands are in El Grupo de la Muerte with only two of the three advancing to the knock out rounds. The Reverend Tony™ picks Italy to be either in the finals and unable to field a team through indictment.

Germany is the clear favorite of the other bracket with Portugal and the lovely Cristiano a close second. But watch out this Sunday when Germany plays Poland. You can throw the record books when these two rivals tangle. There is still a lot of water under that bridge if you know what The Reverend Tony™ means and I think that you do.

So please take two hours this weekend and watch the most beautiful players play the most beautiful game.

Next Week - Father's day gifts that do not involve colonic hydration.

Are you accidentally in love with the beautiful game yet? Croatia's victory yesterday against Germany means a loss in their match with Austria next Monday and the overwhelming pre-tournament favorite will be out before the knockout rounds. Quelle dommage

Today is Italy v Romania with the loser eliminated followed by France v Netherlands with Les Bleus in a must win. The immediate past most beautiful player in the world, Thierry Henry, must play and play well for France to succeed.

RIP - George Carlin, sunrise May 12, 1937, sunset June 22, 2008. In his own words

I want to live my next life backwards:

You start out dead and get that out of the way.

Then you wake up in a nursing home feeling better every day

Then you get kicked out for being too healthy.

Enjoy your retirement and collect your pension.

Then when you start work, you get a gold watch on your first day .

You work 40 years until you're too young to work.

You get ready for High School: drink alcohol, party, and you're generally promiscuous.

Then you go to primary school, you become a kid, you play, and you have no responsibilities.

Then you become a baby, and then...

You spend your last 9 months floating peacefully in luxury, in spa-like conditions - central heating, room service on tap, and then... You finish off as an orgasm.

Greetings,

Happy birthday to US

Happy birthday to US

And 232 more!!!!

In time for the holiday, picnic weekend are recipes for Dagar's Baked Beans and County Line's Secret Potato Salad, both courtesy of the Austin American Spaceman from this Wednesday's edition.

Dagar's Special Baked Beans

1 lb. white navy beans

1 1/2 oz. vegetable oil

1/4 cup minced shallots

1/2 tsp. minced garlic

1/4 cup tomato catsup

1/2 cup honey

1/2 Tbsp. molasses

1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce

1/8 tsp. salt

1/2 Tbsp. spicy mustard

4 strips bacon

Preheat oven to 300 degrees. Cook navy beans in boiling water until semi-soft and set aside.

Heat a large skillet over medium-high heat; add oil and sauté shallots for about 4 minutes or until golden. Add garlic and sauté another 3 minutes. Add catsup and cook until thick, stirring constantly. Add honey, molasses, Worcestershire sauce, salt and mustard.

Combine beans and shallot mixture in a 2-quart baking dish. Place bacon on top of the mixture and bake at 300 degrees for 1 hour or until thick and bubbly. Serves 10.

County Line's Secret Potato Salad

5 1/2 lbs. Idaho No. 1 potatoes (cooked, peeled, cubed)

3/4 lbs. yellow onions
3/4 lbs. celery
1 lb. dill pickle relish
1 1/2 lbs. 100 percent sour cream
3/4 lb. Kraft extra heavy mayonnaise
2 Tbsp. coarse black pepper
1 tsp. garlic salt
1 tsp. celery salt
1 Tbsp. salt
paprika for garnish
parsley for garnish

Boil potatoes, drain and put in the refrigerator for 30 minutes to cool. The cut into 1-inch cubes and set aside.

In a separate mixing bowl, blend together remaining ingredients; the mix should resemble tartar sauce. Add potatoes, and gently mix. Place in refrigerator until ready to serve. When serving, dust with paprika and garnish with a sprig of parsley. Serves 10-15.

The Reverend Tony™ has a couple of suggestions. For the baked beans use 1/2 cup of cane syrup instead of the honey and molasses. Mrs. Renfro's and Steens are excellent but Whitfields is the best if you can find it.

For the potato salad, use half the mayo, sour cream, and dill pickle relish and salt the water one teaspoon per pound of potatoes plus one before boiling.

Speaking of UT, Scam of the Week™ goes overwhelmingly to The University of Texas™ for not one, not two, but three scams in one week.

Scam One is selling the next 10 years of oil and gas production on UT property for a sweet $1 Billion cash now, up front.

Scam Two is using that sweet $1 Billion to convert the Brackenridge tract on Lake Lady Bird into a parking lot to service the upcoming 110,000 seat Royal-Memorial-Jamail-McCombs-Grandma football stadium.

Scam Three features UTIMCO, the investment arm of The University which has a portfolio of about $25 Billion. This week, UTIMCO waived the obvious conflict of interest so that UTIMCO can now "invest" in Directors' pet projects so long as the Director does not get better terms than UTIMCO. Until Gabriel blows his horn indeed.

It was three years ago today that Katrina hit New Orleans. Now Gustav is on the way.

Pray for them.

Speaking of Johnny FU, his choice for vice president is to be revealed at noon edt today. Ladbrookes Ngozi is offering even odds that the candidate is a woman younger than Johnny FU.

And what is the big deal about what GW Numnutz said in his interview with Bob Costas at the Olympics, about America not having problems.

Scam of the Week™ - When will "new development" ever begin to start paying for itself? Every new project is touted as generating X amount of new taxes and Y number of new jobs. Then why does the government always needs to either raise taxes or cut current services or both?

The die is cast. Let the games begin. As The Reverend Tony™ predicted, John Boy picked a VP who is younger and prettier than him, which is just about everybody. Who Sarai is, we do not know yet.

But as governor of Alaska for almost two years now, Sarai is clearly the most qualified to know pork when she sees pork.

Let's talk about pork, The Bridge to Nowhere, from Simon and Garfunkel's Bookends. The Reverend Tony™ agrees with Governor Sarai in that given the choice between spending $200 MILLION to build the Bridge to Nowhere versus spending that $200 MILLION on anything else, then hell yes, who wouldn't.

Maybe use the $200 MILLION to build an oil pipeline across Canada to deliver US oil to Chicago instead of US oil to China, India and Japan, etc., via the Port at Valdez. Instead, Sarai wants to build a natural gas pipeline across Canada to compete with US natural gas in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, etc. and continue to ship US oil to Asia. What's up with that?

This week's screed concludes with the astrology signs of the candidates so you can draw your own conclusions.

John Boy - Virgo Rat born August 29, 1936
Sarai - Aquarius Rabbit born February 11, 1964

Scam of the Week™ - Where did US come up with the $300 BILLION just laying around for this week's financial crisis? And who are these people US are bailing out? Well, Little Jimmy, these are the same people who made contributions to Numnutz.

When Numnutz talks about the "people" he means the "people who gave me money". Just think about that when you hear him and remember what Sun Hing advised "Don't believe half of what you see and none of what you hear."

Scam of the Week™ 2 - Last Sunday, 60 Minutes ran a long piece on Justice Antonin "Ima Man" Scalia probably because they are publishing his new book, "Law, What is it Good For?".

At one point Ima Man said, and The Reverend Tony™ quotes him "Torture is not cruel and unusual punishment."

Ima Man went on to explain that torture is not punishment because torture always occurs before conviction and often needed to obtain evidence for conviction while punishment is after conviction. Therefore torture, being before conviction is not punishment and therefore, is not prohibited by the Constitution. It is simply the difference between before and after. So glad Ima Man cleared that up.

Password tonight is Brunelleschi. Peace, love and gelato, I remain The Reverend Tony™

The subprime lending crisis has more to do with home equity loans than it does home ownership loans. Early on The Reverend Tony™ witnessed atrocious home equity loans for example.

A retired couple 86 and 82 living on a fixed income of about $2,500 per month. Home was appraised for $300,000 and had no debt or lien before the home equity loan.

The lender, which has since gone bankrupt, would loan the couple the maximum amount of 1/2 the equity or $150,000 when they only wanted to borrow $30,000. The monthly payment of principal and interest was $1,800 for the $150,000 home equity loan and $360 for the $30,000 home equity loan. 14.4% of gross income versus 72% of gross income. Said another way, the couple had $700 per month left for everything else including their tithe to the church.

The Reverend Tony™ always advises to follow the money, even in affairs of the heart. Compare the two Republican't fundraising scenarios. McCain/Romney/Huckabee/Lieberman or McCain/Palin. Qui soulève le plus d'argent? Or said in english What Republican't would not want to hunt with the "babe"?

Yes, Little Jimmy, The Reverend Tony™ did use a double negative in the last sentence. That was to make the Republican'ts think, and they hate to think because it hurts the team.

Important safety tip to John Boy. Do not go hunting with Sarai. Because if something were to happen to you John Boy, heaven forbid, Sarai would field dress you without even thinking twice and Ima Man would help.

September 24, 2008, Bush Bailout Special

This Friday Congress adjourns to return to the home district and campaign for re-election. If anyone of them comes home having voted for this bailout then a lynching is not good enough. And in anticipation The Reverend Tony™ is off to Lowe's and Home Depot to corner the market on hanging rope.

One thing we can all agree on, regardless of your race, color, creed or country of national origin, is that this is a BAILOUT. But for whom does the Bailout toll?

The Numnutz administration claims this week's debacle is a result of homeowners defaulting on loans secured by mortgages on the home such as purchase money, home improvement and home equity loans.

For the purpose of persuasion The Reverend Tony™ will assume that Numnutz finally got one right. 1-10, Way to go Bushie. Then the obvious solution is to get these loans performing.

Numnutz solution is to pay $700 BILLION, less usual and customary fees, to buy a bunch of worthless collateralized debt obligations, credit default swaps, wankers, etc. from the banks that bought them for next to nothing from the investment banks. This will provide the banks with cash to start lending again, less usual and customary fees, presumably to people who have lost their homes or are in default but not necessarily.

The Reverend Tony™ says:

(1) US will buy all of the foreclosed properties from the banks for 50 cents on the dollar.

The foreclosed homeowner will have first right to buy back their home.

(2) Re-negotiate the defaulted home loans to a monthly payment that the homeowner can afford, the usual and customary PITI as 1/3 of gross income and require escrow for payment of taxes and insurance. Therefore the home loans begin performing, US starts getting back our investment, see (1) above and people get back their home.

(3) Prosecute the people who thought up collateralized debt obligations, credit default swaps, etc. While awaiting trial US could contract with the Texas Department of Corrections for pretrial incarceration services. Please remember potential defendants, since torture occurs before conviction, it is not cruel and unusual punishment. So plead early and plead often while there is still room at Club Fed.

Who is the short, bald stranger there?
McCain is his name
Flying his planes to who knows where
Shit he's got for brains
Gambling is his game

How about take some of the $850 BILLION and buy down the home mortgages in default and expected to be in default during the next 18 months. Use some more to finance the sale of the already foreclosed properties. Would that not provide cash to the banks who could then loan out that cash to keep the wheels of commerce and industry greased?

Of course it would. But it would not bailout the people who apparently sold $700 BILLION of worthless securities that also turned out, in fact, to be uninsured even though premiums were paid. By the way, what did happen to the $700 BILLION in proceeds from the sale of those worthless, uninsured securities?

To little but not too late, the Numnutz administration has begun investigations into all alleged wrong doing thingys so as to scrub the evidence against culpable underlings such as Paulson, Bernake and/or Cox.

Lest ye think that Secretary of the Treasury Paulson (MBA, Harvard), Federal Reserve Chairman Bernake (BA in Economics, Harvard) and SEC Chair Cox (MBA, Harvard) have some sort of financial genius for coming up with these scams, they are just following a well trod path.

"Memoirs of Extraordinary Popular Delusions and the Madness of Crowds" by Charles Mackay, 1852, chronicles The Mississippi Scheme (France, 1717), the South-Sea Bubble (England, 1720) and The Reverend Tony™'s personal favorite Tulipomania (Holland, 1634). Numnutz has an MBA from Harvard too.

NCAA Football. Is this a great country or what! One of The Reverend Tony™'s two favorite football teams is going to play for the national championship in Miami on January 3, 2009.

The Mighty, Mighty Horns have a reason to be peeved, real peeved that Oklahoma is playing for the Big 12 championship because UT beat my Sooners. Or are they?

In point of fact, my Sooners now must win a play-in game to get to the BCS Championship. Texas not only has a bye week but obviously if Missouri wins, UT is in the BCS Championship Game. Even if OU does not cover, the pollsters could still put UT at No. 2 or even USC. Big TV market is SoCal, eh?

And USC has a better case than UT. First, USC is the conference champion UT is not. Second, USC has only one loss by 6 on the road to the next best team in the conference just like UT. Third, USC beat Ohio State like a red-headed stepchild in non-conference while Texas did same to Arkansas.

For those of you from the 20th century, Mumbai was known to us as Bombay until 1996 when Disney created Bollywood and renamed everything for licensing purposes.

Numnutz™ has bought a house in Dallas where he will attempt to revive the Republican't Party by running for Dallas County Inspector of Hides and Innards. 46 days until Numnutz and Biggus are a Dios muchachos.

Light, sweet crude settled at $43.67/€34.14 down $10.77 or 19.78% for the week which is ridiculous. Now even Chevron is worried. War without end, amen.

December 12, 2008

Enjoy the full moon tonight. It's the last before Christmas this year which will be under a new moon.

NCAA Football - The National Championship football game will be between My Sooners and The Gátors of Florida University (FU). FU is now favored by 3.5 with an over of 72. Take OU to cover and way over.

The Reverend Tony™'s Great Eight is posted at WarWithoutEndAmen.com. and Congress is gonna pass a law outlawing the BCS championship. While everything else is on fire, Congress is going to hold endless meetings on an NCAA Football Playoff system.

This insipid debate is another real life example of Parkinson's Third Law of government, that being The Law of Triviality.

"Briefly stated, it means that the time spent on any item of the agenda will be in inverse proportion to the sum involved."

No one in Congress understands Credit Default Swaps and $3 Trillion. But all of them understand NCAA football and $20 Billion which is about one month in The War of Terror™. And everyone in their constituency knows about NCAA football. If they don't then they should just move back to France.

It has begun already and Numnutz/Biggus still have 39 days left before a dios muchachos.

Rod "Enorme Capelli" Blagojevich was such an easy target and he's from Illinois the home of mob politics. It's as if Rod's helmet hair was a 12 year old's response to watching Mayor Daley's thugs beat the crap out of US at the 1968 Democratic convention in Chicago. Rod was born in Chicago to the name of Milorad Blagojevich. Rod will be his Jail Name too.

Word to Paulson, Berneke et all. Do not be found within the jurisdiction of US at 12:01 in the pm on January 20, 2009. Because US would love for you to be among the last to enjoy the sparse accommodations at Gitmo. US just gotta have that one last Waterboarding (TRT 20070810)

Light, sweet crude settled at $47.98/€36.03 up $4.31 or up 9.86% for the week which made up about half last week's ridiculous 19.78% drop. War without end, amen.

Twass the last Matt's before Christmas
And all round the bar
Drank the usual suspects
Rocks and frozen margs

There's Leo, Willie and the black guys
The mexican with all the hats
Moe and Joe serving
Even Lupe and Mr. Matt

More chips, more hot sauce
Junior's fries and Bob's all around
Fish a la Mexicana

And the best fried shrimp in town

So when you're pulled over later tonight
Just tell the arresting officer
That you've been to Matt's with The Reverend Tony™
And everything will be all right.

Movie Review - Valkyrie opens on Christmas. Tom Cruise plays the talented and troubled Claus von Stauffenberg (and the von don't be silent) who must plot for about two hours to blow up Big, Bad Adolph "Wolfen" Hitler real good.

The reasons to see Valkyrie are many, all involving the mutilation and/or death of Monsieur Cruise who gets blown up real good, loses an eye, and then gets the firing squad, any of which would be sufficient reason to see it. Take the kids, extra mustard.

Hat's and shoes off to Muntadhar al-Zeidi (and the dash be silent). Different strokes for different folks. For US it's a lemon cream pie to the face or a full moon.

But where were the Secret Service because it appeared that al-Zeidi was beaten up by other Iraqi journalists.

Light, sweet crude settled at $36.22/€25.31 down $11.76 or 24.51% for the week. Even Chevron is worried now. War without end, amen.

NCAA Football - Congratulations to Sam I Am Bradford and all of his team mates, coaches and especially the cheerleaders for bringing the Heisman back to Oklahoma. Billy "Boomer Sims" included.

Now take Florida to cover 3 1/2 and under 72.
