It was Halloween night when three vampires walk into a bar.

"What will you have?" asked the bartender.

"I'll have a glass of blood," the first vampire replied.

"I'll have a glass of blood, too, please," said the second.

"I'll have a glass of plasma," said the third.

"OK, let me get this straight," the bartender said. "That'll be two bloods and a blood light?"
